

Build Your Team While Building Homes

When your team helps a local family build their home, relationships are formed and strengthened. It takes sweat, working together, and dedication to making a difference. Your contribution will have a direct impact on the community your organization serves.

Because that is what Habitat for Humanity is all about: bringing people together to build homes, community, and hope.

It is because of the support of teams like yours that Habitat Capital District has been able to build 164 houses in the Albany and Rensselaer Counties since 1988. But we need your support to continue building and providing a hand-up to our our hardworking neighbors.

By joining Habitat as a sponsor, you'll be making a powerful statement as a business, philanthropic organization, public service or faith leader that you support your community and believe everyone deserves a safe, affordable place to call home.

Take Action Today

Get started by taking these three steps:

1. Pledge a meaningful gift through your company's charitable foundation or giving committee to inspire employees to get involved. This leadership gift sets the tone for your year of partnership and affirms a strong message of corporate responsibility.

2. Encourage employees to match the company gift through personal donations and small fundraisers such as dress-down days, bake sales and happy hours. These efforts encourage employee engagement – and they add up to make a big impact!

3. Schedule a team build and get your team onto one of our build sites! Your build day, combined with your team donation, will build a legacy of leadership and compassion.
